

Privacy Policy.

Our commitment to protect your privacy

Perth Networking Club ABN 14 984 247 196 (referred to in this Policy as “us”, “we” and “our”) seek to provide the best possible service to its customers by providing the best possible range of products and services.

We understand how important it is to protect your personal information. This document sets out our Privacy Policy commitment in respect of your use of our website (perthnetworking.club) and personal information that you may provide to us.

We recognise that any personal information we collect about you will only be used for the purposes indicated in our Policy, where we have your consent to do so, or as otherwise required or authorised by law. It is important to us that you are confident that any personal information we collect from you or is received by us will be treated with appropriate respect ensuring protection of your personal information.

Our commitment in respect of personal information is to abide by the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and any other relevant law.

Personal information, sensitive information

When we refer to personal information we mean information or an opinion about you, from which you are, or may reasonably be, identified.

The kinds of personal information may include (but is not limited to) your name, date of birth, phone number, email address, employer name and your address.

It is not common practice for us to collect other sensitive information about you (such as information about your health, political opinion, sexual preference, Tax File Number or criminal record). We will only collect sensitive information about you with your consent.

What information is collected via this website

- The following information is collected for statistical purposes only when you visit this website. This data is anonymous. It is used to evaluate our website performance and to measure the interest in the various areas of our site:
- The number of visitors to the website (gathered via IP address logs)
- Your server’s IP address (a number which is unique to the computer through which you have accessed the Internet)
- The date and time of your visit to the site
- The pages you accessed and documents downloaded
- The type of browser and operating system you are using
- Website chat transcripts (this information is stored overseas)

Perth Networking Club will not try to identify you or your browsing activities except:

- where we are compelled to do so by law (for example: pursuant to a valid search warrant to inspect the service provider’s logs); or
- if your use is causing technical concerns for our site which may need to be resolved.

- Perth Networking Club will only record your email address if you send us a message on any social platform or via email. Your email address will be added to our mailing list upon contact.

Note: Different rules may apply to the collection, use or disclosure of your personal information via other organisations that may be linked or associated with our website. We are not responsible for the use or disclosure of information through those other websites. Perth Networking Club recommends you review the policies on those websites before providing any information.

Why we collect your personal information:

We collect personal information about you in order to conduct our business and to provide our services.

How do we collect your personal information?

We may collect personal information from you in a number of circumstances, including where you:

- make an enquiry with us via email, Website chat or telephone;
- request a quote or make an enquiry through our website;
- attend an event hosted by us; or
- apply for employment with us.
- Where reasonable and practical we will collect your personal information directly from you. However, we will also collect information about you from third parties, such as a partner or spouse who contacts us on your behalf, from our contractors who supply services to us, from a publicly maintained record or from other individuals or companies authorised by you.

If you do not provide the information requested by us, we may not be able to provide you with our services.

How do we use your personal information?

We use your personal information for the purpose for which it has been provided, for reasonably related secondary purposes, any other purpose you have consented to and any other purpose permitted under the Privacy Act. This may include using your personal information for the following purposes:

- to provide you with the products or services you requested;
- to verify your identity;
- to assess, process and manage your application for employment;
- for complaints handling or data analytics purposes; or
- to manage our relationship with you.

To whom will we disclose your personal information?

To enable us to maintain a successful business relationship with you, we may disclose your personal information to:

- organisations that provide products or services used or marketed by us,
- debt collectors;
- your employer/s or referees, your guarantors, your professional advisors, your bank or anyone else where you have provided consent;
- companies and contractors who we retain to provide services for us, such as information and infrastructure systems IT contractors, call centres, stationery
- printing houses, mail houses, marketing companies, marketing technology, storage facilities, lawyers, accountants and auditors, who will need to have access to your personal information to provide those services;
- people considering acquiring an interest in our business or assets;
- where we are required to do so by law, such as under the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (Cth); or
- other individuals or companies authorised by you.

Prior to disclosing any of your personal information to another person or organisation, we will take all reasonable steps to satisfy ourselves that:

- a) the person or organisation has a commitment to protecting your personal information at least equal to our commitment, or
- b) you have consented to us making the disclosure.

Direct marketing

From time to time we may use your personal information to provide you with current information about, special offers you may find of interest, changes to our organisation, or new products or services being offered by us or any company we are associated with. By providing us with your personal information, you consent to us using your information to contact you on an ongoing basis for this purpose, including by mail, email, SMS, social media and telephone.

If you do not wish to receive marketing information, you may at any time decline to receive such information by selecting any opt-out options included or by contacting Perth Networking Club on the contact details below. We will not charge you for giving effect to your request and will take all reasonable steps to meet your request at the earliest possible opportunity.

Updating your personal information

It is important to our relationship that the personal information we hold about you is accurate and up to date. During the course of our relationship with you we may ask you to inform us if any of your personal information has changed.

If you wish to make any changes to your personal information that we hold about you, you should contact us to have it updated. We will generally rely on you to assist us in informing us if the information we hold about you is inaccurate or incomplete.

Access and correction of your personal information

We will provide you with access to the personal information we hold about you, subject to limited exceptions in the Privacy Act as outlined below. You may request access to any of the personal information we hold about you, at any time, using the details specified below.

We may charge a fee for our reasonable costs in retrieving and supplying the information to you.

Depending on the type of request that you make we may respond to your request immediately, otherwise we usually respond to you within seven days of receiving your request. We may need to contact other entities to properly investigate your request.

An explanation will be provided to you if we deny you access to the personal information we hold about you.

If any of the personal information we hold about you is incorrect, inaccurate or out of date you may request that we correct the information. If appropriate we will correct the personal information at the time of the request. Otherwise, we will provide an initial response to you within seven days of receiving your request. Where reasonable, and after our investigation, we will provide you with details about whether we have corrected the personal information within 30 days.

We may need to consult with other entities as part of our investigation.

If we refuse to correct personal information we will provide you with our reasons for not correcting the information.

Denied access to personal information

There may be situations where we are not required to provide you with access to your personal information. For example, such a situation would be information relating to an existing or anticipated legal proceeding with you, or if your request is vexatious.

An explanation will be provided to you if we deny you access to your personal information we hold.

Business without identifying you

In most circumstances it will be necessary for us to identify you in order to successfully do business with you, however, where, it is lawful and practicable to do so, we will offer you the opportunity of doing business with us without providing us with personal information. Such a situation would be where you make general inquiries about a product or current promotional offers.

How safe and secure is your personal information that we hold

We will take reasonable steps to protect your personal information by storing it in a secure environment, and when the information is no longer needed for any purpose for which the information may be used or disclosed, it will be destroyed or permanently de-identified.

We will also take reasonable steps to protect any personal information from misuse, loss and unauthorised access, modification or disclosure.

Further information and complaints

You may request further information about the way we manage your personal information or lodge a complaint by contacting Perth Networking Club on the contact details below.

We will acknowledge your complaint as soon as possible and within seven days. We will provide you with a decision on your privacy complaint within 15 days, provided that we have all necessary information and have completed any investigation required. In cases where further information, assessment, or investigation is required, we will seek to agree alternative time frames with you.

If you are dissatisfied with the response from the Perth Networking Club you may wish to make a complaint to the Australian Government, Office of the Australian Information Commissioner. You can contact them on 1300 363 922 or details of how to lodge complaints can be found on their website: <https://www.oaic.gov.au/privacy/privacy-complaints>
